THE CENTRAL FOUNDRY COMPANY
GENERAL OFFICES: NEW YORK CITY • PLANT: HOLT, ALABAMA

The structures highlighting the 1964-65 New York World's Fair are the result of the world's most creative architectural efforts and the finest building skills.

Included among these are the talents and craftsmanship of a member of the building team who rarely gets public recognition — the plumbing contractor.

Acceptance of the superb sanitary facilities available everywhere in America has been too automatic. We at Central Foundry Company feel that the plumbing industry is owed a special debt of gratitude for the effectiveness with which it carries out its mission.

This booklet is intended to remind the millions visiting the Fair that these superb structures have been made comfortable and healthful through the craftsmanship of the plumbing industry.

The Central Foundry Company is proud that it has been chosen to supply the exhibits shown on the following pages with cast iron soil pipe and fixtures and hopes that the American public will realize that modern sanitary fixtures are among the significant wonders of today's civilization.

Sincerely yours,
